We are in progress of the preparation of the 11th International Symposium on Cell/Tissue Injury & on Cytoprotecting/Organoprotection (ISCTICO), the main scientific event of the UPHAR GI Section (The 10th was held in Kyoto, as the satellite meeting of WCP). The Symposium will be held at the University of Pecs Medical School, Pecs Hungary, October 7-10, 2020.

I will send you more information about it and the tentative program. I will ask your advice how to apply for financial support of the symposium, whom I have to address it, is there any official form of the application, etc.

In addition, also in preparation for 2020 in July, the next Summer School on Stress, that program is put together by the Selye International Institute for Advanced Studies with the IUPHAR GI Section.
