Nomination Committee
IUPHAR

Geneva, 17 January 2022

Dear Nomination committee,

I would like to nominate myself as the Chair of the IUPHAR Clinical and Translational Pharmacology section for 2022-2026, with the full support of the current members of the IUPHAR Clinical Division who unanimously encouraged me to run for re-election.

Indeed, I have been the current Chair of the Clinical Division of IUPHAR since 2019 (taking over the mid-term activities of the previous chair) and have managed many activities to enhance the visibility and recognition of clinical pharmacology worldwide with successful leadership, such as :

- Coordinating training courses and workshops in clinical pharmacology and clinical drug development worldwide (including India, Nigeria, China).
- Liaison with WHO as a non-governmental organisation, ongoing contribution to the 3rd Global Safety Challenge and participation in WHO seminars as an official NGO.
- Launching the 'World Smart Medication Day' in 2021 which attracted wide international interest to promote the visibility of clinical pharmacology worldwide, with an international student poster competition and an IUPHAR webinar, as well as complementary events organized by member societies. Planning for 2022 edition.
- Coordinating the position statement "IUPHAR Clinical Division considerations in the context of COVID-19 pandemic", which provided guidance at the international level on drug evaluation and use throughout the pandemic.
- Distributing an international survey on clinical pharmacology training worldwide.
- Coordinating several IUPHAR-sponsored symposia that have been accepted for the World Congress of Pharmacology in Glasgow in 2023.
- Consolidating clinical pharmacology mentoring centers.
- Participating in the IUPHAR Governance Review and new Strategic Plan.
- Increasing social media visibility through the IUPHAR Twitter account.

I am very motivated to continue and complete the various activities initiated during my first half term for the next 4 years, and I am convinced that my experience at the European level, and well as my current knowledge and experience within IUPHAR, will be keys to success in bringing dynamism and high productivity to the the IUPHAR Clinical and Translational Pharmacology section, in close collaboration with the other sections.

Sincerely,

Caroline Samer
